

LOT 14 Magic in Music City

If your Nashville knowledge starts with Cash and ends with Carrie Underwood, you've got a lot to learn. Music City is home to some of the most passionate wine collectors west of the Smokies, and every summer, they throw a wine party that puts all others—except WinePAWloozza, of course—to shame. It's called l'Été du Vin, it's the longest-running wine charity auction in the country—and it's where you'll be headed from July 24-28, 2024.

One lucky couple will stay for four nights at the luxurious JW Marriott in downtown Nashville, walking distance to Broadway, Bridgestone Arena, the Ryman auditorium, and the Country Music Hall of Fame. You'll dine at James Beard Award-winning chef Sean Brock's The Continental, check out a museum, and visit Nashville standbys Biscuit Love and Hattie B's hot chicken (pro tip: bring a Spatlese Riesling)—and that's all BEFORE the big event.

You'll be involved in every aspect of l'Été du Vin, from the Vintners' Tasting and the Post-Vintners' Tasting Dinner to the Patron's Dinner and the Vintners' Brunch. Don't forget your checkbook, because they always have some spectacularly rare wines on auction, and by the time you're done, you'll have lifelong friends in Nashville's biggest collectors—not to mention plans to go back! OH! And did we mention there's also a Jeroboam/3L of 2019 Antix Cabernet handcrafted by celebrated winemaker Thomas Brown, included?
