

TAKE FLIGHT WITH SCREAMING EAGLE

No need to dress this lot up: it's TWO double-magnums from Screaming Eagle, by far one of the most storied squares of land in Napa Valley.

First, the 1994 Screaming Eagle—three liters of what Robert Parker called “the ultimate collector’s Cabernet Sauvignon”—comes straight from the founder’s cellar, where time has been working its wonders since harvest. When he first tasted the ‘94, Parker said, “It is wines such as this...that make my life so exciting.” With all due respect to the great critic, we submit that nothing can compare with the excitement of drinking it two decades later.

This incredible Cabernet will be accompanied by a double-magnum of 2014 The Flight, Screaming Eagle’s elegant Right Bank-style expression from the same precious soils, coming straight from the winery’s cellar. Together, you’ve got six liters of some of the most precious wine that comes out of Napa Valley—one bottle ready to drink today, the other fit for a stretch in the cellar. There’s no collection that these two bottles won’t boost, so don’t hesitate!

LOT INCLUDES ONE BOTTLE EACH OF:

- One double-magnum (3L) of 1994 Screaming Eagle
- One double-magnum (3L) of 2018 The Flight
